The tourism industry was adversely affected by the 11 September 2001 terrorist attacks on the United States and the subsequent decline in air travel.

However, as the authors state, longer duration treatments need to be tested for any effect.

Although peak progesterone production from the CL is not reached until later in the luteal phase, a CL is said to be mature at five (5) days following ovulation.

Because of this, experts advise all men suffering from erectile dysfunction to immediately get checked in order to treat the problem earlier.
